Coast educators fight for funding

Proposed reductions in funding for the Minimum Foundation Program may hurt collegebound Mississippi students, reported Hancock assistant superintendent Eddie Danzey Friday.

"The Education Stabilization Act (currently before the legislature) is a list of proposed cuts, should education not be fully funded by the state," said Danzey.

"Superintendent (Myrna) Bourgeois, along with other district superintendents from the Coast, are going to Jackson next week to fight for full funding in education."

"They are suggesting we regress instead of

The cut in days would reduce the time teachers are needed, hence reducing salaries and overall district expenses.

Compretta: Lawmakers cut budget five percent

BY TRACI BONNEY

With all the recent talk about Governor Kirk Fordice's mandated five percent funding cuts in many departments and 2.5 percent education fund reduction, little has been said about the State Legislature's expenditures.

However, the Legislature was also ordered to cut its budget by five percent, and has done so, according to Rep. J.P. Compretta.

"We reduced our budget by five percent right after the governor gave the order," he stated.

Meanwhile, the Legislature has not earmarked any more money for the running of the governor's mansion, and Compretta said the lawmakers probably won't.

"It's understandable that he would ask for the money; after all, (Ray) Mabus spent 72 percent of the mansion's budget in the first six months of the fiscal year. But Governor Fordice is just going to have to tighten up, like we have to.

"I don't think he'll shut down the mansion. It'll work out; he'll

Although the $100 million deficit the state is facing sounds like a large amount, Compretta said it is small compared to the budget woes facing neighboring states.

"Louisiana is looking at a $1 billion deficit, and Alabama has to deal with a $200-to-$300 million deficit. So a $100 million deficit in a $5 billion budget isn't all that bad.

"We'll continue to work on it during the session, and we'll end with a balanced budget, like we always do.

He added with a chuckle,

Mardi Gras closings

In celebration of Mardi Gras all offices of Waveland and Bay St. Louis will be closed for the day.

Garbage collections in Waveland, scheduled for Tuesday pick up will be performed on Wednesday. Waste Management will make regularly scheduled pick ups Tuesday in Bay St. Louis. All county offices will be open Mardi Gras.

All local banks will be closed Mardi Gras, with the exception of the Hancock Bank branch office located in Stennis Space

Bayou Caddy Casino receives site approval

BY TRACI BONNEY

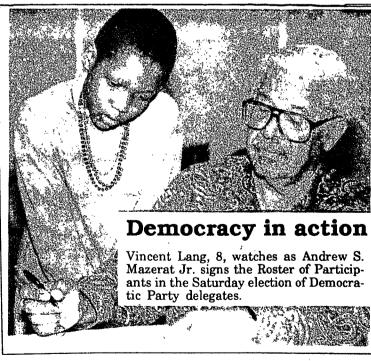

Bayou Caddy Casino received site approval Wednesday, according to company official George Baxter.

Baxter said the company is now submitting its applications to the various state and federal regulatory agencies involved in the permitting process, including the Bureau of Marine Resources and the Army Corps

"We expect a 90-day wait before we get any permits. When we receive the permits, we plan to start construction. 'Construction should take about six or seven months to complete. We hope that by then, the Gaming Commission will have completed its investigation and will be ready to issue a gaming license.'

Bayou Caddy is planning a development in Bayou Cadet at the end of Beach Blvd. Their plans call for one ship in the initial phase, with more potentially brought in as demand for customer capacity increases. Company projections at this point anticipate an average of about 600 customers a day to the casino, Baxter has said in past interviews and briefings to county officials.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Congratulations are in order for Tate Thriffiley, who recently signed a football scholarship to Pearl River Junior College.

Thriffiley not only signed the football scholarship, but also earned an academic scholarship on his ACT

I know Tate's parents are very proud of their son, and I wish him the best in the years to come.

I am going to miss seeing Tate plowing through the line of St. Stanislaus' opponents this coming football season.

Some folks tell me they already have enough parades for the year, yet there are several still to come.

At 1 p.m. today, the annual St. Paul's Mardi Gras parade is scheduled for sister-city Pass Christian.

This 'family affair' parade has a lot of folks involved and usually draws a large crowd from the Hancock County area.

The route in Pass Christian will include East and West Second streets, Clarence Avenue, Highway 90, Scenic Drive; and the parade disbands at Davis.

Tuesday, of course, is Mardi Gras Day, the final day of festivities before Ash Wednesday. In Bay St. Louis, the Krewe of Real People is scheduled to parade at 1 p.m.

The parade will form at Commagere Park on Bookter, Bookter to Necaise, Necaise to Main, Main to Beach Blvd., Beach to Court, Court to Second, Second to Union, Union to Blaize (Third), Blaize to Washington, Washington to Old Spanish Trail, Old Spanish Trail to Commagere Park and disband.

On the Krewe of Realy People parade, all we have to do at the paper is step outside as it passes right out front.

By the way, our office will be open on Mardi Gras Day.

I wish everyone a very happy and safe Mardi Gras.

FROM THE MISSISSIPPI SENATE

By Senator Vic Franckiewicz

Consolidation of elections will save state money

"Another election? Again?" Time after time, voters in my district have complained about too many elections. Action by the Senate Constitution Committee this week may bring some relief. We approved and sent to the full Senate a constitutional amendment to consolidate state, county, and congressional elections. The result would be fewer elections and millions of dollars in savings. Here is how the new election schedule would work. Currently, state and county elections are in odd-numbered years. Our plan is to move them to even numbered years between presidential elections—the same time we currently hold federal congressional races. This move will happen in several stages between now and 1998.

First, the next set of state legislative races would be held in 1994 instead of 1995. This shortens current legislative terms, but most of us think that will happen anyway because of a court order reapportionment.

Next, county elections and statewide elections would be held on schedule in 1995, but these elections would be for three-year terms. Finally, by 1998, all congressional, state, and county races will be held

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

County's closing of dumpsters will worsen litter problem

I read with disappointment the article in the Feb. 23 Sea Coast Echo describing what was said regarding garbage disposal at the Feb. 21 board of supervisors meeting.

The article reported the least important statements that were made, and ignored the following:
The 1991-92 statement of county revenue and expenditures for the period ending 1/31/92 shows the actual budget for the entire fiscal year is $180,863, and the year-to-date expenditure is $156,281, or an average monthly expenditure of $39,070 for the four months October, November, December and January.

Why was only $15,027 per month budgeted, when it was known that expenses would be more than twice that much? The answer given was that when the 1991-92 budget was adopted in August, it was known that the open top containers (dumpsters) would be removed throughout the county, so the entire year was not budgeted.

We assume the county annually solicits competitive bids for garbage disposal before awarding a contract, yet the county is using a company whose prices are considerably higher than for similar services by another company qualifications.

The answer given was that the county isn't required to get competitive bids every year, and that there are options that are also considered.

Mike Ladner, District 5

supervisor, was asked why he came to a Jourdan River Shores general membership meeting in August and made a political speech in which he promised to do everything he could to see to it that the dumpsters would remain at Jourdan River Shores when he knew that the county budget was being developed based on the dumpsters being removed.

Mr. Ladner was also asked if he had voted to remove the dumpsters, to which he answered, "Yes, I didn't have a choice.

The supervisors were reminded that one of the dumpsters that was removed was located at the county boat launch at the end of Comanche Street, and asked if the county was going to assume the responsibility of keeping the area cleaned up. The answer was that the county would assume that responsibility by sending someone from the maintenance department three times a week to pick up the garbage and litter.

Everyone agreed that gar-bage and litter are already major problems in Hancock County, and that removing the open top containers may solve a budget problem, but it will only worsen the littering problem. Two of the supervisors said that the county should consider getting more involved in garbage by purchasing equipment and doing their own hauling. Ray Cowie President, Jourdan River

Mardi Gras revelry is rooted in paganism

The Times Picayune Mardi Gras guide (2/19/92) said, concerning its history and origins: ..These early celebrations had a decidedly evil and raucous element. It was so bad that Carnival celebrations were curtailed between 1806 and 1823 (p.16)...There were still a number of years when violence marred the holiday, when the celebration seemed to be reverting to its pagan roots (p.20)...' If secular historians can see the evil, pagan nature of Mardi Gras, how is it that Christians fail to see? How is it that Christian Sunday services are abbreviated or rescheduled to encourage attendance and participation in Mardi Gras revelry?

How is it that Christian pastors do now warn congregations of the serious eternal consequences of involvement in Mardi Gras and like activities? Christ, who opposes revelry, disowns everyone who has affections for and participates in it. "Now the works of the flesh are manifest, which are...uncleanness, lascivious, ness, idolatry, drunkenness, revelings, and the like; of which I tell you, as before I have also told you in times past, that they who do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God... They that are Christ's have crucified the flesh with the affections and lusts" (Galatians

Shores POCA

5:19, 21 & 24).

A recent Slidell parade is evidence enough that Mardi Gras is still violent. The costumes and actions of revelers is proof enough that Mardi Gras is lascivious. The demons on masks and floats is testimony enough that Mardi Gras is demonic. The crowning of kings and queens is witness enough that Mardi Gras is idolatry, and that Christ is not its central figure. The extensive consumption of alcohol is reason enough to know that Mardi Gras is drunkenness.

Those who like to think they can participate in Mardi Gras without participating in its wickedness are about as innocent as the spectators who cheered when Christians were fed to the lions and who thought their hands were innocent of blood because they didn't open the gate themselves.

To those who truly desire to be Christ's, there can be only one admonition concerning Mardi Gras, "Come out from among them, and be separate, says the Lord, and do not touch the unclean thing; and I will receive you" (II Corinthians

Education proposals leave much to be desired

A colleague of mine just gave me a copy of the Education Stabilization Program, sponsored by Lt. Governor Eddie Briggs and the Senate Education Committee.

As I read over the list of proposals, I honestly thought it was a ke-but it's not.

now can they propose to cut teacher pay? Isn't it low enough with the state averaging at 49th in the nation already? How many parents want the ADA (average daily attendance) to change from 24 to 30 in grades k-4 and from 27 to 35 in grades 7-12?

Another proposal would allow local districts to make teacher aides in grades k-3 optional. Cutting the number of school days down to 160 may sound like a great idea to the kids, but not to the teachers, who are already pressed for time to teach the required state objectives per grade level.

Also, we should note that some parents may find themselves paying more for child care with a shortened school year.

Allow me to present a list of my own proposals to save tax dollars:

The Governor, Lt. Governor, and other high ranking state officials should accept a lower salary-49th in the nation-as the teachers already are;

State legislators should, also. set their pay in proportion of ours—49th in the nation; Reduce the number of legislators—do we need two houses? Chancery clerks and circuit clerks need to have a reasonable set salary;

Direct from New Orleans, Maxwell has assembled his musicians from America's top showrooms, big name bandstanks, concert halls and Bourbon Street bistros, and fused their distinctive styles into a powerful and unique big band sound. Maxwell's orchestra is in constant demand around the country for symphony balls, fund raisers, debutante parties and concert appearances.

Maxwell is known as the man who is responsible for the traditional sounds of Mardi Gras and has been dubbed by the Times-Picayune as The King of Carnival Swing.

This year's ball will be held at the Hancock Civic Center at 8 p.m. The Coleen will be selected from local high school juniors with outstanding grade point averages, and 10 maids will be presented. As always, the Grand Marshal's identity will remain a secret until the evening of the ball.

Coat and tie are required for gentlemen. Tickets are available for $9, or $18 per couple, from members of the Waveland Civic Association. The ball is the prelude for the Civic Association's annual St. Patrick's Day parade, which this year will be Saturday, March 14.

At this point, more than 60 units are expected to participate in the parade. Floats, trucks, cars, bicycles and marching groups are invited to join the event.

Entries will be accepted by phone until Wednesday, March 11, as will written entry forms (published elsewhere in The Sea Coast Echo and also available at Big E Seafood). Participants will be required to sign release forms.

Awards will be presented to winning entries.

TV THEFT

Hancock County Sheriff's Department Investigator Nathan Hoda reported the arrest in Louisiana of a Baton Rouge man in connection with a reported tractor trailer theft February 15.

Hoda said James E. Humble Jr., 44, was arrested and charged in Ascension Parish late Tuesday evening with illegal possession of stolen property.

The arrest followed the recording of complaint call to the Hancock County Sheriff's Department that a trailer parked in the lot at D&K's on Hwy. 603 and Kiln-Waveland Cutoff Road was stolen. The trailer had been left overnight by the driver, who had disconnected the tractor to do some work on it. The driver said the trailer contained 280 Zenith televisions worth a total of $225,000.

Hoda said the sheriff's department is working with the FBI and Ascension Parish Sheriff's Office officials. They have recovered some of the stolen TVs and expect to make more arrests.

He added that bond was set at $5,000. Humble was in the Ascension Parish jail at the time of the report Thursday.

BURGLARY

Bay St. Louis Police Detective Tom Burleson reported that a Bay St. Louis man was arrested in connection with a reported burglary.

Burleson said at 6:13 p.m. February 24, the department received a call on a burglary at 761 Webb Street. Money and jewelry were reported missing.

At 8:55 p.m. the same day, Emmett Eugene Ellis, 26, was arrested and charged with burglary. He was incarcerated under a $10,000 bond.

Burleson said a good portion of the money was recovered, but none of the jewelry was.

He added that no other arrests are expected. Officers Shane Corr and

Senate

To achieve this, it will take an amendment to Mississippi's 1890 Constitution. If this election reform measure passes, it will be on the ballot for you in November.

Another constitutional amendment u considera-tion by the Senace would give county voters the power of selfdetermination. The amendment would create a new Section 260-A of Mississippi's constitution to allow the legislature to set up alternative forms of county government, and to allow each county to choose its own form of county government by a vote of the people. Under current law, cities can do this, but counties cannot. We need to put counties on equal footing.

The Senate Insurance. Committee passed out to the full Senate a bill which would revise and reform the state's workers compensation system. Increasingly high medical bills and other cost factors are putting a strain on our system for compensating injured workers.

Captain Slocum and the Spray were lost in a gale off Martha's Vineyard on November 14, 1909.

In Bay St. Louis, everybody is familiar with the dog ordinance which was framed and approved by the present administration. It was thought the ordinance would rid the city of its curs running all over the streets.

There still is a large number of dogs running wild without licenses. The Echo and the community wants to know whose job it is to enforce the ordinance.

The city must do one or the other - see that the ordinance is enforced or money refunded those whom were made to pay.

The Sea Coast Echo is there.

Krewe of Diamondhead stages 17th annual Bal Masque

Special to the Echo "The Last 500 Years" was the theme Saturday, Feb. 22, when the Krewe of Diamondhead staged its 17th annual Bal Masque at the Diamondhead County Club.

Introduction of krewe officers followed the traditional blowing of the captain's whistle denoting the beginning of the festivities

The officers are Stan Robert, president; Jerry Bourg, treasurer; Clarice Gustin, secretary; Chris Arnos, parade lieutenant; Hilda L. Bourg, publicity lieutenant; Henry Burkhardt, social lieutenant; Ronnie Bankston, way and means lieutenant, and Laura Almerico, decoration chairman.

The captain's entrance was highlighted by the sound of trumpets. His royal purple velvet cape was heavily embellished with wide bands of gold sequins which formed the logo of the Krewe of Diamondhead.

Maids and dukes entered the decorated ballroom together. The maids wore individually styled sequin ball gowns.

Maids to her majesty were Mrs. Bonnie Grant, daughter of the Queen; Mrs. Marge Larson; Mrs. Fran Robert and Ms. Penny Hale, daughter of the Queen.

Dukes were Tom Fredian, Henry Kibler, Gerald Diekema and Theodore Reshew, son of Reigning as King Ali'i Honua XVII was Jerry Reshew, and his Queen was Gert Wadington. They promenaded around the ballroom greeting their subjects to the official song of Mardi Gras, "If Ever I Cease to Love."

The Queen's dress was a white fitted silk sheath with a V-neckline, long, straight sleeves and a softly gathered skirt with center front slit. The entire dress was richly studded with iridescent bugle beads, gold sequins, pearls and clear stones fashioned into matching designs on the front and back. A jeweled collar, crown and scepter completed her ensemble.

The king was attired in a white military jacket and black tuxedo pants with a purple baldric. He wore a jeweled crown and carried a matching

Their majesties' matching royal purple and green mantles were deeply edged with fur and rows of gold and purple sequins. The central motif was golden sequined comedy and tragedy masks with the logo of the Krewe of Diamondhead emblazoned under the masks.

The ballroom was decorated with flags, streamers and flowers in the traditional colors of purple, green and gold. The bandstand was draped in gold lame centered with the royal thrones. Each table decoration carried out the theme of the

The decoration committee consisted of Linda Eckert, Linn Godard, Wanda Newman. Rosemary Bacigalupi, Linn Bankston, Delora Diekma, Gisela Rainey, Billy Bahner, Janet Snemyr, Fran Robert, Evelyn Kibler, Jean Keen, Betty Flood, Pat Crim, Mary Lou Freeman and Laura Almerico, chairman. Each member of the committee was presented a ceramic Mardi Gras mask from the Special guests of the King and Queen were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, sister of the queen; James Grant, grandson of the Queen; Mr. and Mrs. Alvan Culbertson, brother of the Queen; Mrs. Helen Shamis; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schatzle; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bassett.

Past Krewe of Diamondhead monarchs attending the ball were 1976 King Joe Salvatore; 1980 Queen Lee Fredian; 1982 Queen Cecile Grice; 1983

and Queen Dot Hoskins; 1990 King Ronnie Bankston and Queen Linn Godard and 1991 King Ted Godard and Queen Evelyn Dibler.

The former queens received bouquets of flowers with streamers in the carnival colors from the Queen, and former Kings received boutonniers from the King.

Attending the ball as guests of the Krewe of Diamondhead were the 1992 royalty from the Krewe of Kamehameha, King Akua Kai XVIII Bud Barnes and Queen M'Lis-"Missy' Marshall.

Past royalty from the Krewe of Kamehameha who are members of the Krewe of Diamondhead were 1982 Queen Pat Stafford; 1983 King Lou Cotton; 1985 King Bud Freeman and Queen Mary Lou Freeman; 1986 Queen Jean Keen; 1990 King R. B. Boatright and Queen Nina Cotton and 1991 Queen Nell Dennis.

Also presented during the tableau was Queen Okeanos XVIII Schoen Robin Heier from the Krewe of Okeanos in New Orleans. She is the daughter of Tommy and Lorraine Heier, both past monarchs of the Krewe of Diamondhead.

A special presentation was made to Mrs. John Boos for her outstanding service for the Krewe of Diamondhead.

Music was provided by "Buddy Ohler Band." Master of ceremonies was Stan Robert.

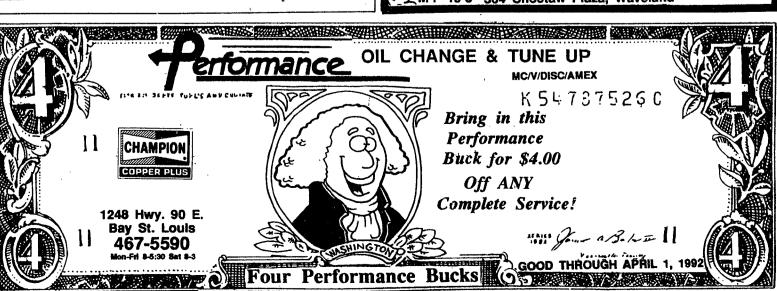

Jazz brunch honors royalty

The Diamondhead home of E. L. Cotton was the setting for a Mardi Gras jazz brunch honoring King Jerry Reshew and Queen Gert Wadington, hosted by Mrs. Cotton and Cecile Grice. The royal couple arrived in a horse-drawn antique carriage, via roped parade route complete with signs. Bill Connelly led the parade with his saxaphone, along with Lou Cotton's music and Marge Larson's second lining. A reviewing stand dubbed "The Boston Club" held special guests Philip Carey, Bertha Morris, Theo Reshew and Stan Robert. A New Orleans-style courtyard and other Mardi Gras decorations were found throughout the home. Grillades and grits were served to 44 guests.

NATION'S LEADERS WERE ALWAYS GUIDANCE

The leaders of our nation have always had to face many seemingly insurmountable problems, both at home and abroad; so many, in fact, that we wonder why they ever wanted the job. Moreover, no matter what solutions they proposed, they always received a mixture of praise and criticism at best. However, since they knew in advance to expect this, it is all the more to their credit that they were willing to take on the often thankless assignment. They differed in their philosophies and in many other ways, but they all had one thing in common: they prayed for God's guidance to help them make the right decisions, knowing that their actions would affect our nation's destiny for years to come. At our House of Worship, concerned with only the destiny of our own families, we would nonetheless do well to follow their example.

"He that ruleth over men must be just, ruling in the fear of God."

The Veterans of World War I Auxiliary 2537 met Feb. 26 at the Senior Citizen Center. The meeting was called to order by President Genevieve Cole. Prayer was led by Tuleter Oliver. Minutes of previous meeting and treasurer's report were read by Pauline Charping, past national president.

Department President Lois Fallo gave a report on the national convention to be held in Louisville, Ky. in August. Felix Fallo, Department Commander, was a guest.

Community service and VAVS award charms were given to Mamie Carver, Tuleter Oliver, Clara Arnold and Genevieve Cole. Gladys Bastain was welcomed as a new member.

On March 15 at 2 p.m. the auxiliary and buddies will be honored by the VFW president and Post Commander Donald Mauffray and Audrey Heyd at the VFW building.

Plans were made for an Easter party at the Gulfport Hospital in April. The next meeting will be the last Thursday in April at 3 p.m.

at the Senior Citizens Building in Bay St. Louis.

Refreshments were served by Pauline Charping, Pat Cole Wilson, Mamie Carver and Rose Jaquillard.

Parkinson Support Group

The Parkinson Support Group will meet Sunday, March 8 at 2 p.m. at Garden Park Community Hospital in Gulfport.
Speakers will be Andy Kanneviefer and Maury Herman, volunteer senior citizen tax preparers, who will talk about tax changes and answer questions.

Also, Lt. Col. James Martin will tell members about his Parkinon experience. For information call 863-2929 or 467-0307.

District director visits

During a recent visit to the Exchange Club of Hancock County, Exchange Club district director Marie Porter (left) congatulated county club past president Gwen Meyers for receiving the National Service Award. The award, given by the National Exchange Club, recognizes projects conducted on a local level throughout a given year. (Photo by Bob Hubbard)

Blue Jeans Garden Club

President Mayola Rotherham opened the Feb. 20 meeting of the Blue Jeans Garden Club with the reading of a prayer.

Minutes of the January meeting, including the list of committees and chairmen appointed for the coming year, were read by secretary Beverly Coogan. Minutes were accepted as read.

The treasurer's report was given by Cathleen Taconi and was also unanimously accepted as read.

Publicity chairman Virginia Thomas reported she inadvertently did not report there were two winners of silver bowls which were presented during the Christmas party and awards luncheon. Rotherham and Betty Klein tied for first place; the first time ever to be a tie.

Each member attending the brief February meeting donated $1 to be given (each month) to the food pantry.

Winner of the 1/2 and 1/2 was Melba Felder, and Lucille Witter won the door prize.

Co-hostesses for the annual February social, which followed the meeting, were Dot Feahney, Mary Danna, Joyce Hicks and Lucille Witter.

Just For You

Grand opening festivities were recently celebrated at Just For You hair salon, 833 Hancock Square, Suite E, Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis. From left are Libby Peterson, stylist; Madonna Rauxet, manager; and Julie Barrere, stylist. Just For You is a full-service Aveda salon, offering hair products, skin care and make-up. Hours are 9-5, Tuesday through Saturday. Walk-ins are welcome. (Photo by T. H. (Doe) Toups)

Hancock County Humane Society

The installation of new officers and planning of fund-raisers were the highlights of the Hancock County Humane Society monthly meeting. Taking office were Thyla P. Rogers, president; Ardley Hanemann, vice-president and Julie Brown, treasurer. Suzanne Smith, Harry Brown and Dorothea Martin are members of the board.

Upcoming fund-raisers include the fifth annual "Artist for Animals" show in May, a spaghetti dinner and the shaking of cans on Hwy. 90 in Waveland and Bay St. Louis.

Marilyn Pope is chairman of the membership committee and Suzannah Becker and Bridget Maurigi will be cruelty investigators

Allyson Keller has spoken with Rep. J. P. Compretta regarding the lack of animal protection laws in Mississippi, and Mr. Compretta has promised to work in a dedicated fashion to introduce and pass the needed changes in our existing laws. A draft of these changes drawn up by Bill Johnson was faxed to Mr. Compretta in Lackson

ENGAGEMENT

Lacy-Anderson

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar M. Lacy of Pearl announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Kayla Eileen Lacy, to Olen Lloyd Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd W. Anderson of the Crane Creek community.

The bride-elect is a graduate

The bride-elect is a graduate of Pearl High School and will graduate from Ole Miss in May. She is currently employed at MS 98 in Oxford.

The prospective groom is a graduate of Hancock North Central High School. He expects to graduate in May from Ole Miss and plans to attend the university's law school. He is the editor of the university's newspaper, the Daily Mississippian.

The couple will exchange vows in an afternoon ceremony at Eastside Baptist Church in Pearl March 7. Friends and relatives are invited.

Rotary Clubs, Kmart sponsor drug education contest countywide

The Bay St. Louis and Diamondhead Rotary Clubs are combining efforts in a drug awareness program for children in the first, second and third grades of all the schools in Hancock County. Theme is "Drugs, 'Not' Today."

All of the public schools will receive a supply of shopping bags to be provided by the Waveland Kmart. Each child is encouraged to draw or paint an illustration depicting this theme on the bag.

Bags will be available in the schools by Friday, March 6. During the following week, students may take the bags to Kmart and receive a free fountain drink in return. Deadline for return of the bags is Friday, March 13.

The bags will be put on display in the Waveland Kmart store, and judging will be Friday, March 20.

One winner in each first, second, and third grade class of each school will receive a $50 savings bond.

The shopping bags will be used in the Kmart store to bag items with and "send the message" out into the community.

More information may be obtained from Jay Fleuriet, 467-0200, Jon Ritten, 255-9188, or Van Carpenter 467-4538.
